MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED]

SUBJECT: Progress Report on OSP Historical Program

1. Since OSP is a relatively new office the writing of the over-all office history is not a large task, and is at the moment in outline form. I will continue to do most of this writing myself.

2. The technical project administrators for our projects have been assigned the tasks of writing the histories of their several projects; these will be attached to the basic OSP history. Only the program history for [REDACTED] is in draft at this time, however, in most instances the major portion of the project histories exist in the form of quarterly reports, etc. and so we might basically consider them to be in preliminary draft form.

3. At this moment there are four people actively engaged in this effort. An individual to write a monograph regarding the CIA/DOD relationships specifically involving OSP has not been located yet.

4. I believe that by the end of April the greatest portion of the monographs as well as the narrative will be in final draft.
